On the intensity of this tournament ...

"It's been a blast, very exciting. I think as the tournament goes on the games are only going to get even bigger. I think we started off the game against Russia very well and we can build on it throughout the tournament."

On Team USA's chemistry ...

"I've played with a lot of the guys on the team and a lot of us know each other from different places, like the U.S. National Team Development Program, and we've gelled together. I think we are heading in the right direction."

On playing with Gaudreau and Miller ...

"It's been great having the opportunity to play with Galchenyuk and Kuraly for two games and now Gaudreau and Miller for a game. I'd have to say Miller likes to get in on the forecheck, use his big body in physical play. Gaudreau is a guy who likes to pass. They compliment me well. With Gaudreau's passing skills, it helps me as I like to shoot. With Miller, I like to get into the forecheck as well so we can play off of each other."

On his path from Pittsburgh to Detroit ...

"I moved from Pittsburgh to Detroit before my seventh grade year, mainly for hockey. Vince Trocheck and I both went to play for Little Caesars. My family followed and we still live in Michigan, but we return to Pittsburgh a lot to see family."

On Team USA's Pittsburgh connections ...

"I played with Vince Trocheck and J.T. Miller for years with the Pittsburgh Hornets. We made it all the way to the national championship game together one year. Gibson played a few seasons with us too."

On his dad, Don, who played in the NHL ...

"He's been a huge influence since I've been younger. He's always helped me learn the game and the little things. It's awesome to have him as a resource. He coached me from when I started until I moved to Detroit. He also coached John Gibson, J.T. Miller and Vince Trocheck when we played on the Pittsburgh Hornets."
