Alan is the Head Strength & Conditioning coach for the nationally renowned DeMatha Catholic High School basketball program. He is also a performance consultant for Nike Basketball and has worked as the the head conditioning coach for the annual McDonald's All-American game, the Jordan Brand All American Classic, and the Nike Skills Academies (including academies for: Kobe Bryant, LeBron James, Steve Nash, Chris Paul, Paul Pierce, Vince Carter, Deron Williams, Kevin Durant and Amar'e Stoudemire. Alan's passion, enthusiasm, and innovative training techniques leave a lasting impression with every player and coach he works with!

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT ALAN STEIN

"Coach Stein helped me gain nearly 20 pounds my senior year at Montrose and continues to work with me to this day. The added size and strength he has given me has made me a better player on the court.

He really helped me make the transition from high school to college and from college to the NBA. His program is unbelievable."

— Kevin Durant
NBA All-Star with the Oklahoma City Thunder
