Mikayla Hayes (Park Center, Minn.), Park Center HS - 2017

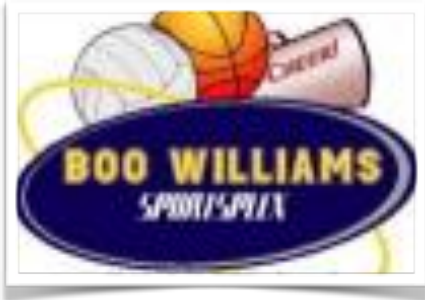

Hayes is every bit of 6-2 now and shows flashes of being an elite forward in the class. She is running the floor and takes up space around the rim. The emerging prospect is right on the edge of moving into the next tier of prospects nationally in the sophomore class. Hayes appears to be on track to be as productive a prep as class of 2015 graduate Victoria Harris, a Rutgers signee. Michigan and Minnesota were both on hand for this one to watch Hayes.

FIRST STOP: BOO WILLIAMS

Five North Tartan teams will be traveling to Hampton, Virginia to participate in one of the nation's most prestigious NCAA certified events. NIKE BOO WILLIAMS has been a top three favorite by sports writers, athletes, and college coaches consistently over the last decade. North Tartan has traditionally traveled three teams to the mega-event but with an increase in the program's talent and the elevated play of multiple teams (specifically at the Junior and Sophomore level), director Bill Larson has committed five teams to participate in the April 24-26th event.

DIRECTOR BILL LARSON

As one of the nine members of the National AAU executive board, North Tartan Director Bill Larson is busy preparing for this seasons' mid-year meeting taking place in San Antonio, Texas. Despite all of the business and a full schedule of meetings throughout the weekend of January 16-18th he feels his commitment to the growth of women's basketball is well worth adding to an already hectic schedule.

"Being part of the AAU, and holding a position on the national executive board is an honor. The dedication that the entire board has towards "the game" is always refreshing." Bill Larson
