

CCHL PLAYER OF THE MONTH

The Chicago Catholic Hockey League (CCHL) is proud to present its October Player of the Month award to Providence Catholic's Junior forward Jake Rott. The 6'4 right wing posted 7 goals and 11 assists in 5 CCHL games in October. The Orland Park resident also posted two hat tricks and two 4-assist games during October. Rott currently leads the league in assists, total points and points per game.

The Chicago Catholic Hockey League is in its 53rd year of operation. The league consists of ten Chicagoland Catholic schools offering high school hockey as a school sponsored sport. The CCHL maintains a rich history of talented student athletes that have gone on to play collegiately, internationally and professionally. Notable alumni include former NHL players Chris Chelios (Mount Carmel), Ed Olczyk (Br. Rice), Bates Battaglia (Fenwick), Joe Corvo (Fenwick) and Tim Stapleton (Fenwick). Former NCAA standouts Gary Kruzich (DeLaSalle, 1984 NCAA Champion at Bowling Green 1984 and Finals MVP) and Scott Paluch (St. Rita and Bowling Green 1988 All American). The CCHL has produced current collegiate coaches: George Roll (Br. Rice and Nazareth College), Joe Augustine (St. Rita and Rhode Island University) Mark Opstipina (Mount Carmel and Milwaukee School of Engineering) and John Micheletto (Mount Carmel and U-Mass-Amherst).
