

Greetings SHAW Families

My name is Craig Hyland and am the proud father of Andrew from the Squirt C White team! Being a first-year squirt on full ice was truly an amazing transformation and I look forward to the many more years of hockey ahead. We have been part of the SHAW family since 2013 and are completely consumed by hockey just like the rest of you. I've enjoyed watching these kids grow and compete while playing a game they love.

To let you know a little bit about myself, I'm a proud father of three. I've been in sales management for over 20 years. I consider myself to be a people person and enjoy helping in any way possible. Some of you may have worked with me at Brewer games and I feel the hard work put forth there helps to show that I want everyone to succeed. I feel my best qualities are honesty, reliability and believe in a no-nonsense approach to finding the best resolution to issues that occur. There is always room for improvement in anything we do. As part of an organization, we all want to see SHAW grow and succeed all while remembering that this is all about the kids.

In the end I'm happy to be part of the SHAW family and look forward to growing with this organization. We are all part of one team and I know working together we can achieve goals we set for ourselves!

Thank you for your time and consideration

Craig Hyland
