MATCH PREVIEW:

The bell has rung, class is ready to start. Fury FC will be looking to add three points to their season total of 16, while they try to subtract all offence from Orlando City B in the club's first ever School Day Game, Tuesday morning.

Despite a strong second-half performance against the Rhinos on Saturday, Fury FC saw its unbeaten streak come to an end at four games, as they lost 1-0 in Rochester. It was the first time since May 13th that Fury FC was held scoreless, which was also the last time they lost in USL action.

Ottawa now looks to bounce back in front of its home crowd – which will be filled with a lot of passionate and cheerful young fans as students celebrate the end of the school year. Tuesday will mark the second game of a busy stretch of three games in eight days for Paul Dalglish's side, as the club also will be hosting New York Red Bulls II Saturday afternoon.

Tuesday's match will also feature the use of the Video Assistant Referee (VAR) technology, which consists of an additional referee positioned in a booth, and video technology being utilized through every available camera angle to advise the head referee of clear game-changing situations: goals, penalty decisions, direct red card incidents and cases of mistaken identity.

The School Day Game is expected to be quite a battle against Orlando and Ottawa, as both teams are tied at 16 points in the USL Standings.

After kicking off the 2017 USL campaign with only one win in their first five games (1W-1D-3L), Orlando City B suffered only two losses in their last eight games, most recently 1-0 against Toronto FC II last Wednesday. Ottawa could also see a familiar face Tuesday, as former Fury FC defender Timbo is now playing for Orlando.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING:

Fury FC GM and Head Coach, Paul Dalglish:

"We want to bounce back, no doubt. We are really happy that there is a game this quickly after Rochester because we want to get back to winning ways. It's going to be a great atmosphere and a great opportunity for us to play in front of fans that can come and watch us for generations. It's important that we put on a show for these young kids because we want to make them Fury fans for life. With Orlando, it's very difficult to predict who and how they are going to play. You never really know with these MLS 2 teams, but we will have to be ready and focus on our play."

Fury FC Captain, Lance Rozeboom:

"It's a strange time but it's a great opportunity for the kids to come out and watch us. It will be a cool event for them, so we want to make sure to give them a good performance. We will have to wake up a little earlier and prepare a little bit earlier. It's a big game, a six point game. They have some good and talented players, so we will have to come out ready and take our points at home."

Fury FC Forward, Tucker Hume:

"It's good to have a game so quickly after Rochester to set things straight. We want to put on a performance for our home fans. Yes, it's an 11 a.m. kickoff but at the end of the day, it's just another game so we will have to be ready to play the way we know we can play and come out strong. We need to work hard, give our best and focus on the little things we can control."

ABOUT ORLANDO CITY B

On June 30, 2015, Orlando City SC announced that they would operate a USL club starting in 2016, in the Central Florida area. The team would be their USL affiliate, and Orlando City and Louisville City (their USL affiliate club for 2015) had negotiated a "long-term formal partnership" to replace their affiliation arrangement.

Orlando City also announced that Anthony Pulis would coach the new team. Pulis was a player for Orlando City SC's USL club from 2011-14 and is the son of Tony Pulis, currently the manager of English Premier League side West Bromwich Albion F.C.

On August 11, 2015, Arizona United announced that Rob Valentino would retire from playing and that he would be an assistant coach for Orlando's new USL team. In October 2015, the club was officially introduced as Orlando City B, with home games to be played in Melbourne at the Titan Soccer Complex on the campus of EFSC campus
