Gregg Marshall

Men's Basketball Coach

Wichita State University

Gregg Marshall is the head men's basketball coach of Wichita State University, where he has built the Shockers into one of the top non-BCS programs in the country. He has improved the Shockers' win total in each of his four seasons. Marshall holds a career record of 276-138 as a head coach.

In the 2010-11 season, Marshall led the Shockers to a stellar 29-8 record, culminating with a championship in the National Invitational Tournament in New York. He was a four-time Coach of the Year in the Big South Conference and is also the winningest coach in that conference.

CatchItKansas.com is a celebration of high school sports designed for young athletes, their coaches, parents, grandparents and fans of all ages. Started with only a dozen Wichita high schools, CatchItKansas has expanded from that base to more than 170 schools. We provide stories, schedules, scores, game statistics, video and photos. We are the primary source of information on every varsity contest, in every high school sport, from football to bowling.

Our aim is to provide complete results, not just on the winners but those filling all eight lanes at a track meet or a swim meet. Want to know who's leading the area in any statistical category? We crunch the numbers for you throughout the season. And once it's over, you'll find all-league and all-state teams on CatchItKansas.com.

Many of the stories you will find on CatchItKansas.com are written by student journalists at the schools they cover. And we encourage all of you to contribute as well by submitting your own digital highlight videos and photos to MyLocker.

Clint Hill Service Award—2011

Max Falkenstien

Lawrence, Ks.

Max was born and raised in Lawrence, Kansas. He graduated from Liberty Memorial High School and from the University of Kansas. He served 35 months in the United States Air Force/Army Signal Corps during World War II.

He began his broadcasting career while in high school as a staff announcer at WREN. After returning from the service he began his sportscasting career in 1946. His first game broadcast was of an NCAA Playoff basketball game between Kansas and Oklahoma A&M, anchored then by Bob Kurland. A&M won the game and later...its second straight NCAA Championship. Shortly thereafter Max originated the KU Sports Network, which subsequently was acquired by the University. His long career included broadcasts of KU's Final Fours in basketball, two national championships in 1952 and 1988, plus Jayhawk football appearances in two Orange Bowls and several others. In all, between 1946 and 2006 he broadcast over 650 football games and more than 1,750 basketball games. He aired every men's KU basketball game played in historic Allen Field House from its opening in 1955 until 2006.

He was the first inductee into the Lawrence High School Hall of Honor. He received an honorary "K" from the KU Lettermen's Club. He has received the Baker University Lifetime Achievement Award and the Ellsworth Medallion, the award of the KU Alumni Association. He is a Paul Harris Fellow of Rotary International. While serving as President of the Topeka Rotary Club, the club purchased the first gorilla in Kansas for the Topeka Zoo, which was named "Max." He is the recipient of the Distinguished Service Award from the Kansas Association of Broadcasters and a member of the Kansas Broadcasters Hall of Fame. He has authored two books with Doug Vance and Matt Fuls: MAX AND THE JAYHAWKS and A GOOD PLACE TO STOP which chronicle his 60 year association with coaches and athletes.

The College Football Hall of Fame in South Bend, Indiana honored Max with the Chris Schenkel Award for broadcasting excellence. He was the first media member of KU's Athletic Hall of Fame. Dick Vitale selected him as a member of Vitale's "Sweet Sixteen"...his choice of the top 16 college basketball broadcasters in the country. The Sporting News chose him as the "Best College Radio Personality in the Country." Sports Illustrated featured him in a special article. He was elected to the State of Kansas Sports Hall of Fame. The Naismith Basketball Hall of Fame in Springfield, Massachusetts selected him for the Curt Gowdy Award for Broadcasting Excellence. He was only the second college broadcaster to have been so honored.

At the conclusion of his 60th year of following the Jayhawks, the KU Athletic Corporation presented Max with its first ever Lifetime Service Award. He was honored by Resolutions of Commendation from the United States Senate, the United States House of Representatives, the Kansas Governor's Office, the Kansas Senate and the Kansas House of Representatives. His mythical jersey (Number 60) was retired in Allen Field House, next to all the great KU athletes who have been so honored. He was recognized by every member school of the Big 12 Conference, as well as the Conference Office. He joined an elite list of luminaries when the Native Sons and Daughters of Kansas named him Kansan Of The Year in 2006.

On the business side, Max spent a long career in the banking industry, retiring as a Senior Vice President of Douglas County Bank in Lawrence. His primary responsibilities included marketing, public relations, business development, employee training and electronic banking. He was instrumental in helping develop electronic advancements for the bank. He served as chair of the national advertising campaign for the American Bankers Association, and also headed the advertising division of the Kansas Bankers Association.

Max and his wife, Isobel, are the parents of Jane Hart of Topeka and Kurt Falkenstien of Lawrence. They have three grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Don Jones Courage Award

Kevin, Emily, Avery and Elyse Haxton

Kevin Haxton is a native of Claflin, Kansas. He is a 1995 graduate from Claflin High School where he participated in football, basketball, and tennis. He was a part of two State Championship teams in football and played in two state tournaments in basketball and participated in three state tennis meets while placing third in doubles with his twin brother Kyle his junior and senior years. He continued his basketball career at Sterling College and was the team's co-captain his junior and senior years. He graduated in 1999 with a Bachelor's of Science degree in Business Administration.

After graduating from Sterling College, he married his wife Emily, a 1994 graduate of Claflin High School, on June 5, 1999. Emily graduated from Washburn University and began her profession as a Physical Therapist Assistant at Satanta District Hospital while Kevin worked in Admissions at Garden City Community College. In 2000, Kevin and Emily relocated to Ellsworth, Kansas. Kevin worked for Barton County Community College for seven years and Emily began working at Ellsworth County Medical Center and is currently still working there. Kevin began his coaching career in 2000 at Quivira Heights High School. He was the assistant boys basketball coach in 2000 and then took over as the head coach in 2001, and 2002. He then took over as the head boys basketball coach at Claflin High School in 2003 and remained there through 2007. During his time at Claflin, he led his teams to the state tournament in 2006 & 2007 and his team was the state runner-up in 2006. In 2007 Kevin began teaching and coaching at Ellsworth High School and he will be beginning his fifth year as head basketball coach at EHS. He has also been the head golf coach at EHS since 2008.

On March 18, 2011, Emily, Kevin's wife of 12 years and mother of their 2 children, son Avery (8) and daughter Elyse (3), was diagnosed with stage 4 colon cancer. Their world was turned upside down at that time. Emily has always been a healthy person and has tried to take care of her body, physically, emotionally, and mentally. These last several months have really been eye opening and have changed their perspective on so many different levels. They have always felt like spiritual, Christian people but have definitely grown closer to the Lord and leaned on Him, and gained strength from Him these past several months. Emily is courageously continuing to battle this disease by taking treatments and leaning on her faith, family, friends, and community. Her determination and toughness is personified by the way she continues to live her daily life and she continues to be a positive impact on everyone she is in contact with. Surgery will be in the near future and they know that there are a lot of challenges still ahead, but believe without challenge, there is no achievement.
