

These are the distinguished inductees whose plaques now hang in the Roosevelt front hall as newly inducted members of the Roosevelt Hall of Fame:

The Honorable Robert J. Sheran, '32 who made many memorable contributions to the judicial system in Minnesota, including being Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and organizer of the Minnesota Court of Appeals.

Peggy Marz England Nevers, '34, who progressed from part-time telephone operator at Northwestern Bell to the highest-ranked woman, serving as chief lobbyist to the legislature, and mentoring countless women as they progressed in their careers.

Bettye Johnson Olson, '41, the first female president of the Student Council. She became an internationally prominent artist and painter. She is still painting and invited the group to her current show. Her works are found in museums, corporations, and universities around the world.

Gloria Tew, '41 is a master sculptor whose works appear around the world, including a sculptures at the Mayo Clinic, Lakewood cemetery, and in the collection of the King of Sweden.

Douglas Hanson '46 and teacher and counselor at Roosevelt from 1950-1992, was known as a Teddy through and through, making a difference in the lives of thousands of students. He was a supporter of Dunwoody and prominent in several community groups.

Richard Lack, '46, was a notable painter who founded the Atelier Lack school of drawing and co-founded the American Society of Classical Realism. He drew portraits of notables, including the Kennedys and is widely exhibited throughout the country

Charles Stenvig, '46 was a lifelong servant of Minneapolis, both as a police officer and mayor twice during the turbulent 60s and 70s.

Bob Jenkins, '56, is a musician, conductor and winner of a Clio and a Gold Lion Award for his work. He played with Woody Herman, Glenn Miller and Jimmy Dorsey. He was principal trombonist with the Omaha Symphony Orchestra.

Dr. Carol M. Anderson, '57, was a leading scholar, professor, and practitioner of family therapy. She developed the model for working with victims of schizophrenia and their families.

Robert J. Hoyle '57, is one of Minnesota's first Peace Corps volunteers. He organized and directed the Festival of Nations. He's known best for serving immigrants, refugees, and displaced persons during a 40-year career on four continents.

Dr. Gail Omvedt '59, is a committed social change agent, scholar and consultant to governments and the United Nations. She has worked in India primarily, with the socially oppressed and women.

Dave Mona '61, set the standard for over 30 years as a radio, television and newspaper reporter, public relations rep, media personality and community leader. He brought major sports events to Minnesota and served as President of the U of M Alumni Association.

Ronald Naslund '61 was a world class hockey player at Roosevelt, in college, in the Olympics, and in professional hockey. He went on to become a successful businessman and active supporter of many charities.

Dr. Bruce E. Adams '62 is one of the first board certified emergency physicians in Minnesota. He developed methods to improve emergency care in rural areas and served as medical director of North Memorial Emergency department, the first private Level I Trauma Center.

Dr. James Ehlen is a national leader in the health care industry. He served as a clinical professor at the University and other leadership roles, before creating Medica. He then served as president of Allina.

Al Gowans, teacher, 1937-65, taught social studies and served as head football coach from '37-'65. He led the Teddies to three Minneapolis City Conference Championships and the Minnesota State Championship in 1956. The football field is named after him.

Reed Larson, '74, enjoyed a 13 year NHL hockey career, as one of the top defensemen in the league. He scored 200 career goals, the first American to do so. He is a member of the U.S. Hockey Hall of Fame.

Monte Moir, '76 is a musician extraordinaire, who has played in The Time, and appeared in films, including Graffiti Bridge. He appeared on The Tonight Show, American Bandstand, Saturday Night Live, and has played with Prince, Rhianna, Janet Jackson, Gladys Knight and the Pips, and other notable musicians.

Joel Sandberg '82, has committed his police work to the south Minneapolis 3rd precinct, including Roosevelt. He served as a police officer for over 30 years, including as a liaison officer at Roosevelt. A recipient of numerous top awards, he is now an investigator, and won the Investigator of the Year award in 2007. He also is a donor of scholarships to RHS students.

Lita Malicsi, teacher 1982-2007, has a loyal following of English and theater students who proclaim her their favorite. She has directed over 32 near-professional theater productions, directed Homecoming and Sno-Daze programs, and began the Arts Initiative at Roosevelt. She is prominent in the Asian community, having served as president of Fil-Minnesota for years. She has been on the Governor's State Arts Board and directed many community productions.