Philosophy and Goals

Sideout Volleyball Club strives to provide an environment that allows athletes to learn, improve and develop their individual and team volleyball skills. This occurs through coaching instruction, practice and competition. We teach sound fundamentals as well as age appropriate skills, strategy and game tactics. It is also our goal to field consistently competitive teams.

We believe in being positive role models for our athletes and teaching responsibility, commitment, and work ethic. Lessons that will be applied on and off the court.

Sideout has sent many athletes on to the collegiate level where they have played at the NCAA Division I, II, & III levels, in addition to NAIA and Community Colleges programs.
