President's Report

Eric Ingram

Welcome to the conclusion of another great year of wheelchair rugby in the USQRA. It is an honor to make it to this level of competition, so congratulations to all those who have qualified. Thank you to the Oscar Mike organization for hosting Nationals this year. This will certainly be a great experience for both organizations as we prepare for the next two with them as our hosts.

We are also kept on the move by all the amazing sponsors who step up to fund this organization. The Association wouldn't be anywhere near our current capabilities if it weren't for those companies who believe in what we are doing. Thank you to Melrose Wheelchairs, Eagle Sportschairs, Lone Star Paralysis Foundation, Fusion Medical and ABC Medical.

This was a year of change and transition, as we moved on to our new tournament host and our new postseason structure. As with any change, there can sometimes be hiccups and challenges, and this was certainly no exception. The Association understands the challenges of a condensed season schedule, and we have learned a great deal from this year's process. Thank you for not rioting. Having a firmer understanding of the new structure, and with some proposed modifications during this year's AGM, future years should run more smoothly. The primary goal of the Association's Board is to get better every year. We will take the lessons learned this year and apply them to future seasons. It's through dialogue we've had and the experiences through this process that we are able to grow, and evolve, into better versions of ourselves.

The 2018-2019 season brought about more growth and development for both our sport and our Association.

- Early in the season, the Board unveiled the new website. Although this isn't the final step on our digital journey, it was a great advancement over what we had. The board is working towards getting a fully functional website, and is actively seeking title sponsors for it.
- There has been a renewed focus on outreach and development, with VP2 Mike Cottingham and his team at the University of Houston putting in a ton of leg work to help grow our membership.
- In August, was able to be the USQRA's representative at the 2018 World Championships, gaining useful knowledge of the inner workings of our sport on an international level.

There I was able to make valuable connections and friendships with others running their country's domestic wheelchair rugby leagues, and to gain insight from them on how to be better in my role.

- The Board has continued on our path to better modernize and streamline our operations. One example is the small, but vastly useful, ability to accept payments digitally through Paypal. It's in these minute ways the Board works to better serve our membership. We will continue working to do so.

The USQRA's Board and Staff members have worked hard this year to get the best outcome possible. Its through these efforts that we still find ourselves in such a thriving environment. I thank them all for their service to the Association and look forward to working with them the next year.

Looking forward, the Board will continue to build, modernize, and streamline our efforts. To make our operations more standardized and robust, even during transitions, we will begin to incorporate Policy documents into what we do. While not binding, these documents will serve as a guide this Board, and future Boards, should follow in the situations the Policy is for. These Policies will also be made in an effort to enhance the likelihood of future Boards by incorporating the beneficial lessons learned by those who have experienced them.

For example, one of the first new Policy documents that will be instituted is a policy to move certain amounts of surplus funds the Association has to a reserve account. This account will be separate from our primary account and should only be access if the Association finds itself in a situation that requires it. The amount transferred at the end of each season will be dependent on the amount of surplus had, and will scale by percentage accordingly. This Policy will encourage a good financial future for our League by saving during the plentiful years to use during the lean years. Look for more information on that soon.

Its actions like those you read here I hope bring you encouragement about our direction. We welcome input. If you have suggestions, or know of better ways to go about something, we are all ears. As always, I can be contacted at President@usqra.org.

1st Vice President's Report/Rules Committee Chair Report
Michael Cottingham

I have been honored to serve my first year as the First Vice President. In addition to the responsibility of managing the competition and bylaws committee, I have worked to redefine the role of this position. I want us to better support new and developing teams while also supporting teams at different levels as they advance. I anticipate we will have at least three new or reconstituted teams next year with the possibility of two to four additional developmental teams. Perhaps most encouraging is that interested teams represent three of the four sections. These efforts have been supported by community programs that have actively donated or loaned equipment to new programs. Several of these programs are interested in hosting introductory camps and hopefully will be applying to the USQRA for support.

Additionally, I am putting together a generic sponsorship packet where teams can plug in their information in their efforts to find financial support. I anticipate we will have this out within a month after nationals. This will be a resource for teams but should not be the only resource we produce. If you are in need of different marketing materials or resources, please reach out to me. If several teams are in need of the same materials, we can work to develop those and provide them to the whole league.

Lastly, we are finalizing our Division I, II, and III committees. These will be new ad hoc committees that will provide guidance and address needs of teams at different levels. Instead of a one size fits all approach or a tug of war between developing and elite programs, I want to address challenges differently for teams that have different rugby goals. Currently I have a full committee for Division III (with representation from all sections), but I am in need of one to two more committee members at Division I and II. This is your chance to join a committee and impact the league

In conclusion, I want to be a resource for you, and I can promise that I will be reaching out to many of you over the next year. We are going to keep improving this league, and we have a lot of members with unique skills. I hope to bring more people in and utilize those skills. Don't be a stranger.

2nd Vice President's Report/Fundraising Committee Chair Report

Daniel Curtis

It's been a busy and exciting year for USQRA fundraising. Fundraising for the USQRA continues to be a challenge for an all-volunteer Board of Directors. Below are highlights of the activities that took place during the 2018-2019 season.

Fundraising and Sponsorship Updates

The USQRA Fundraising Committee drafted new sponsorship levels in 2018-2019, that were implemented at the start of last season. The goal of this sponsorship structure was to create more consistency between post-season and regular season sponsors and to provide more variety of sponsor benefits. The 2nd Vice President worked with post-season tournament hosts to implement the sponsorship levels and feedback continues to be generally positive.

2018-2019 Sponsors

The USQRA is grateful for the loyalty of our long time sponsors: Melrose USA, Eagle Sports Chairs, and NuMotion. Their continuing support throughout the years is very much appreciated!

The USQRA welcomed The Lone Star Paralysis Foundation, ABC Medical, and Permobil as new sponsors.

The Hall of Fame Committee worked with Box Wheelchairs and RibGrips as sponsors for the Hall of Fame.

Thanks to all our 2018-2019 sponsors! Your support is crucial to the success of the USQRA!

Grants

The USQRA has applied for a $15K grant from the Reeves Foundation for which a decision is pending. Furthermore, a LOI has been submitted to the Neilson Foundation for a 60K grant that would help developing teams, referees, and classifiers. Other grant opportunities are in the works for the 2018-19 season.

Marketing

Thanks to the support of the Lone Star Paralysis Foundation, a promotional video was been created for the USQRA. We intend to use this video in combination with an updated sponsorship packet to attract new sponsors for the coming years. We would really like to target a wider variety of sponsors including those outside of the spinal cord injury spectrum. To assist with this, a marketing and PR volunteer is also working with the association to fine-tune this for next season.

Additional opportunities for marketing include developing social media content to keep USQRA social media platforms relevant and engaging. If you have an interest in assisting with USQRA marketing and want to get involved, please contact the 2nd Vice President.

Moving Forward

There are a number of identified priorities for the 2nd Vice President/Fundraising Committee moving forward. If you have interest or expertise in any of these areas please reach out to the 2nd Vice President and find out how you can get involved!

- Establish an Endowment for long term financial support for the USQRA
- Reach out to government contractors for grants related to hiring and recruitment of individuals with disabilities
- Select/implement a platform to accept donations from individuals on a recurring/one time Basis
- Seek out potential funding sources for further website redesign
- Work with nonprofit academic programs through internships and project opportunities to help identify new sponsors.

Opportunities and Challenges

As more companies and individuals become aware of wheelchair rugby we want to provide opportunities to connect and invite them to become part of supporting wheelchair rugby in the United States. A number of new companies reached out inquiring about USQRA sponsorship opportunities this season and hopefully we will be able to continue to expand our sponsorship base and financial resources.

The Board of Directors puts in an incredible amount of time often without a lot of support or appreciation. I would encourage all USQRA members to consider how they might be able to get involved with growing and supporting our association.

We have members with all kinds of skills, abilities and interests and I can guarantee there is a way for each person to get plugged in to the USQRA. If not, go ahead and create one! If we want to continue to grow wheelchair rugby in the United States - not only in numbers but also in skill, recognition and reputation- it will take all of us working together.

Secretary's Report
Michael Klonowski

It has been another constructive season for the USQRA. We have made a lot of visible changes in the way that the league interacts with its members and those who follow the sport. Several projects that have taken a lot of work to get going have finally fostered results. We have a new webpage, we continue to get increased social media exposure and the Hall of Fame has a newer, more interactive home on the USQRA webpage. It is the hope of the Board of Directors, that this year we are doing a better job of reaching more and more of you, while spreading knowledge of our sport.

The biggest news has to be the new webpage that was unveiled during this past season. What started off as a small project to do a mockup for a new website, turned into a transitional webpage that allowed us to immediately change the way people see our league. When folks come to the USQRA webpage, they can see scores from the entire season. People can come to the webpage and access resources like tournament scores from the entire season, the Constitution and Bylaws for the USQRA and the minutes from the AGM. But, very importantly, we are able to give our sponsors the exposure that they deserve, smack-dab on the home page of the USQRA website. The USQRA has seen a lot of traffic over the past several months, and we hope that this traffic is due to people realizing that we have a viable tool for interacting with members and the public. We know that the work on a new website is not done. It is a process. But, we are getting closer to our vision of how we present our league in the best way possible for years to come.

Social media exposure has increased significantly over the past year. Our Facebook page now has 2712 likes, a 7% increase from last year. Our Twitter Feed now has 696 followers, a 10% increase from last year. Our Instagram now has 926 followers, and has seen a 111% increase in this past year. This means that more people are realizing that they can see what's going on in the league, immediately, like scores and action from tournaments. Again, we are motivated to increase the exposure of our sponsors, and social media has allowed us to do this quickly and effectively.

The Hall of Fame now has a visible home on the USQRA webpage. For too long, the legends of our sport have been buried under the convoluted pathways of our old website. This was not the right way to honor those who have given so much to our league and sport. The Hall of Fame has a new image and is much more accessible to website visitors. Hall of Famers, Brad Mikkelsen and Chris Cook have hunted down members of the Hall and have gotten updated pictures and biographies on the many individuals that have been honored by the league. Hopefully, you will check out the new page and see the faces and read the stories of the many great folks that have led the way to today's sport of wheelchair rugby.

It should not go without note, that it has been a pleasure to be surrounded by the hard working individuals that are currently on this Board of Directors. The First and Second Vice Presidents have re-invigorated their offices and have pushed for initiatives that will not just help the league today, but, will ensure a robust future for the USQRA. The President has pushed and prodded for a modern and dynamic board that responds to and anticipates the needs of the league. The Commissioner has continued to take on a role that is thankless, but, is so necessary, and has been done well in a way that limits bias and puts the interest of the league first over everything else. I am incredibly appreciative of all of the work they have put into the league this year. I am thankful for another year of opportunities to help this league to the best of my capabilities and I hope to be as productive, if not more so, over this next year.

Treasurer's Report

Sid Christain

Thank you Debrah Whitehurst for the years of service you provided to the USQRA as Treasurer. The transition to interim Treasurer was efficient and problem free due in no small part to the effective way you handled the responsibilities of the office and the diligence you gave to ensuring a smooth transition. It has been an honor to serve as Treasurer for the 2018-2019 USQRA Season.

The Year-End financials and Proposed Budget for the upcoming Fiscal year (April 1, 2019 – March 31, 2020) are included in this report.

Membership Dues: We collected Dues for this season from 41 teams. We instituted electronic payment options for remitting dues and collecting other payments through Quickbooks' Electronic Invoicing System. Our current payment options include credit/debit cards, electronic ACH draft, and manual check remittance. Roughly 70% of all payments received this past season were by electronic means.

International Player Fees: Twelve teams rostered and paid International Player Dues which generated $9,000.00.

Insurance: We collected $6,150.00 in Insurance Dues this season. USQRA liability insurance coverage is provided through Adaptive Sports USA. Adaptive Sports USA in prior years have been able to subsidize our USQRA premiums requiring that we pay 50% of the actual premium. This subsidy has kept our premiums from rising dramatically. As of January 1, 2019, USQRA will be required to pay the full premium for Team Liability Insurance coverage. The Insurance

Fee for the 2019-2020 season will likely rise but the amount of that increase is yet to be determined.

Classification: Fees for Classification expenses this year will be close to twice the $10,250.00 collected for this season in Classification Dues. The classification process is vital to quad rugby and the goal of providing a system that weighs quality evaluation and cost is an evolving one that the USQRA Membership will need to continue to assess.

Stewardship: The USQRA Balance Sheet included in this report is indicative of good financial stewardship. Our cash balances provide the means to manage the financial challenges that lie ahead without the need for hasty decision making but the available funds will also require prudent management to meet present needs and promote numerical and qualitative growth of our sport.

Budget: The Proposed Budget for the 2019-2020 USQRA Season is attached.

Commissioner's Report

Dave Mengyan

As another season comes to a close, it's time to look back at what we've accomplished and where we've fallen short. My first thought is that the league has a really strong board. All 5 members from the President to the Secretary are really working hard to strengthen the league. I have enjoyed working with this board and look forward to next season if I'm asked to continue as commissioner. Fundraising has been strong, allowing us to start a rainy day fund to make sure we are prepared for a lean year and to allow us to consider some bigger things in the future if they can keep up this trend. Daniel has done an excellent job but he could really use a couple ambitious people to join the fundraising committee to make sure that happens. Please reach out to any board member (or me) if you are interested.

Clinics and pick-up events were down this year. The league has funds allocated to clinics, so if you're thinking about hosting one (counts toward your hosting requirement if it's open), please reach out to Michael Cottingham and he'll help you start that process. There are several amazing players and coaches around the league who would be happy to help you take your game to the next level.

The new post season structure has been the hot topic all year. From its first implementation, it seems there is plenty of room for improvement but we've got 16 great teams representing us in Rockford so I'm excited to watch the games play out. I'm anxious to hear the discussion today around new clarifications and any alternatives that might make our league better.

Phoenix was an amazing National Championships host for the past 2 years, leaving Oscar Mike a big job to try to reach the bar set by Ability360. Nikki and her team have battled many challenges to bring this together, in conjunction with your Executive Committee, so hopefully this year's event will exceed your expectations. We will have an AAR soon after the tournament to discuss successes and near misses so next year will be even better. If you have feedback about the tournament, please send it to commissioner@usqra.org so your hosts and I can consider your opinion.

Next year is big for the USA. It's when we choose the team who will represent the Red White & Blue in Tokyo. Those athletes will pour everything into preparing. To avoid the issues we had in 2016, we've been in close contact with Lakeshore to make sure we're aware of events that will take those athletes away from the USQRA season. I think we all agree that both Team USA and the USQRA are better when participants don't have to choose between them. Potential hosts for next year's Semi-Finals will be given a date list of Team USA events that they need to avoid when scheduling their own tournaments. Of course the tentative date for next year's National championships (and any revisions while that is finalized) have and will also take this information into consideration.

Next year I'd like to revise our "regions". Since we don't need Sections and Regions as they exist, I'd like to break the country into 6 or 7 relatively equal sized Zones. This will better balance the number of teams each RAC is responsible for. I started down that path this season but ran into trouble finding RACs in a couple of zones. RACs are very important – they choose which teams go to the playoffs. If you're interested in being a RAC for next season, please contact the commissioner.

By now you've seen the new USQRA website – mostly the result of pressure and a great deal of effort by your Secretary, Mike Klonowski. We lost our developer for the old registration system – he was working basically for free so it's not a surprise as he's moved on to other things. I'm looking to completely reimagine the user interface to make it more intuitive and more player focused, while retaining the as much of our data structure as possible so we don't lose any of our history. The site you see is only a small piece of a bigger vision that includes migrating historical information from our 2 previous sites, more detailed scoring results, an improved registration experience, and much more. Those changes probably won't happen in the next year but we'll lay the groundwork so we're ready when we reach our fundraising goal.

Remember, this is your league. You set the rules, you determine who cares for it, and you are the primary beneficiary of everything the league does. Don't leave it to other people – get involved!

It's been an amazing season and both divisions will be hotly contested here in Rockford. Please let your friends, family, co-workers, and sponsors know about the live feed so they can see the best face off and share in your 2019 Rugby journey. Best of luck to all the teams in the tournament and to everyone as they prepare for the 19/20 season!

Atlantic North RAC Report

Bill Bouffard

The 2018/2019 season had the Atlantic North Region with 7 active teams: EWAF NY Warriors, Magee Eagles, Medstar NRH Punishers, WNY Wreckers, Maryland Mayhem, the Connecticut Jammers and NEP Wildcats.. The WNY Wreckers & Connecticut Jammers withdrew from Post Season. The Magee Eagles, NEP Wildcats, NY Warriors and NRH Capitol Punishers played in the first Eastern Nationals Semi Finals in DC. Medstar hosted the tournament which was very well run. The Medstar NRH Punishers placed 3rd and Magee Eagles placed 4th and are headed onto DII Nationals. The Region as a whole is gaining strength. The Region as a whole is gaining strength with 4 teams finishing in the top 24. We're all hoping to move up next season.

❖ Post season hosts

- Thanks to the Medstar NRH Punishers for once again hosting a very well-run post-season tournament. Some fantastic competition throughout the weekend and 4 solid teams move on to Nationals.

❖ Clinics

- The NEP Wildcats are looking to host a rugby clinic in the summer of 2019

Items of interest:

There were no major issues in the Region this season and plenty of tournaments. The CT Jammers and WNY Wreckers are struggling in retaining players but continue to develop. The Wildcats & Warriors broke into the top 24 for the first time.

The Can-Am tournament mentioned above is an extension of the able-bodied CanAm International rugby tournament. The longest running able-bodied rugby tournament in the US and is entering its 45th year and wheelchair rugby is becoming a bigger part of it. The tournament still lacks a dedicated w/c rugby team host, but I manage the rugby team's portion of this tournament. 2018 may have been the last year for this tournament as we were unable to secure the Olympic Training Center for 2019 and venues are scarce in the Region. More on this next year.

Heartland South RAC Report

Gary Pate

Tennessee

For the 2018-2019 season, this team continued to build on last year's surprising success and lay the groundwork for the future. They competed in 5 tournaments : St.Louis, Atlanta, West Palm, Birmingham, and Dallas. With a strong 2d place finish in West Palm, the Quadcrushers cracked rugby's Top 25.

They rostered 2 new players....one returning to play after 7 years in retirement. Several players had debilitating injuries which limited roster flexibility but this Tennessee team continues to improve under the leadership of Hall of Famer, Eddie Crouch.

Kansas City

You would think KC would have trouble improving on its hot run to Nationals last year but that was simply a warm-up.

Playing in tournaments at home, Indianapolis, St.Louis,and Houston, KC's Tom Knaus and Brad Hudspeth were repeatedly recognized as Best in Class. Hudspeth also became the first KC player invited to the Team USA tryouts.

This team topped off the year by flawlessly hosting the western semi-finals and as a 7 seed, advancing once again to Nationals. The teams' balance was demonstrated by all for starters receiving awards.

Lakeshore

The Demolition returned to form this year, winning the Shepherd tournament and finishing second in Dallas and at its own Derby. The team also played in Houston and Phoenix. The success is reflected in a 5th seed for Nationals as well as the numerous tournament awards received by Ike Yukinobu, Bob Lujano, Clay Brackett, Del McMillian, Aimee Bruder, and Sid Christian(USQRA treasurer).

Yukinobu not only added dynamic play to the Lakeshore lineup but led by example and demonstrated constant integrity and kindness.

St. Louis

An always tough team, St. Louis continued building for the future with a good mix of veterans and younger players. Not until post-season did this squad have a full roster at a tournament. Competing short-handed at its home tourney, Turnstone, Ohio, and Kansas City, St. Louis always gave its opponents a hard-fought lesson in how to play rugby. Though falling short of dreams at the semi finals, St. Louis and Coach Sue Tucker look well equipped for next season.

Mountain East RAC Report

Chuck French

Mountain West RAC Report

Josh Wheeler

The 2018/2019 season the Mountain section had the following teams:

Mountain West – Ability 360 Phoenix Heat, and University of Arizona Wildcats

UA and Phoenix qualified for nationals this year and all made Division 1.

Tournaments Held

- Duel in the Desert October 19-21, Phoenix
- Texas Hold 'Em Tournament, November 9-11, Hosted by Texas Stampede
- Rugby Rave, February 7-9, Ability 360 Phoenix Heat
- Wildcat Clash, February 22-24, UA Wildcats

Items of Interest:

In years past we (the Mountain Section) would only have 4 teams at nationals. If you go farther back in time we would only have two in D1 and two in D2. This year we will have the top 4 teams from one section and a fifth team from that same section in D1. It is great to see the progress of our League and the strength of our section. On a different note I would love to see some development outside of the core teams from this section. I would like to see the Utah team come back. It was great to see the San Antonio team playing again however I would like to see them go to more tournaments next season.

Pacific North RAC Report

Josiah Sullivan

The Pacific North was comprised of five teams this season as the Cal Storm and Reno High Fives combined: Boise Bombers, Nor-Cal Quake, Portland Pounders, High Fives Storm, and

Seattle Slam. Seattle hosted the Slam on the Sound to kick the season off and did not disappoint. There were a lot of close games with the High Fives Storm taking 1st, Seattle 2nd, and Boise 3rd. The next tournament for the Pacific North was the Reno Rumble. This tournament fills up faster than any other tournament I've seen, it was full in less than 10 minutes from the tournament info being sent out. Who doesn't want to spend Halloween weekend in Reno?! As always it was a fun tournament. Nor-Cal finished in 1st, High Fives 2nd, and Seattle 3rd. There was also a tournament in Sacramento in January where Phoenix came in 1st, Nor-Cal 2nd, and Sharp 3rd.

Our region had three teams qualify for the postseason tournaments, all played in the West Semifinals; Nor-Cal, High Fives, and Seattle.

Pacific South RAC Report

James Sa

The Pacific South kicked off with the 30th annual Best of the West in November, this time a local D2 tournament, true to its name and the geographical skill level. Sharp took home a close first place finish over Ability360's B team with help of import Travis Murao. Unfortunately, due to issues and obligations outside of rugby for James Sa and National Team obligations for Murao, both had to step down before post season, resulting in an Iron Man lineup during sectionals. Although a great experience for newer players on the roster, Sharp ultimately was unable to qualify for Nationals.

Northridge continued their relationship with Austrian import Rene Hernesz and qualified for Nationals as a 6th seed. The team will continue to look to Mercado and DeYoung for leadership and experience.

USQRRR Referee Report

Andy Miller

It has been my honor to serve the sport of wheelchair rugby and our referee's association during this past year. It has been a very busy, and productive year; one that has seen our membership grow and develop their craft. It has also been another year of genuine collaboration with the USQRA towards the common objective of advancing the sport we love.

Clinics held during the past year – There were no clinics held during this season. Metal and Muscle was interested in hosting a clinic in December, but with such a large field of teams, as well as scrambling to staff the tournament with officials, our Executive team felt that candidates would not get the best possible clinic experience, so we declined to hold a clinic in conjunction with that event.

An advanced referee clinic was planned in conjunction with the Ability360 Rugby Rave in February. Unfortunately, our instructor was unable to attend due to a death in the family.

An entry level clinic is being planned in conjunction with the “Best of the Rest” tournament being hosted by University of Houston in April. We anticipate between 3 and 5 candidates will participate in the clinic.

We hope to pick up the pace with beginning and advanced clinics during the coming season.

Member Development – The USQRRRA leadership recognized that two of our officials have demonstrated the potential to move to the A level of certification. These two officials will be evaluated for advancement to the A level during this year’s Nationals tournament.

Todd Jackson earned is “A” level certification.

Martha Smith and Jonathan Williams earned their “B” level certifications.

The USQRRRA Executive team has developed a matrix that describes certification levels for our officials. The document defines certification requirements, jurisdiction, relevant experience, certification maintenance and conditions for advancement for the existing C (Regional), B (Sectional), and A (National) levels of certification. The document also defines the same criteria for a proposed new level; International Zone level. Having this criteria written down and understood by our member officials will illuminate a clear path an official will follow to advance from one level to another, should he or she aspire to move up. Thanks to Mitch Carr and Joe Bongiovanni for driving this effort!

For the 3rd year in a row, we partnered with Kevin Bowie, Canada’s Head of Officials, to further our exchange of officials between the US and Canada. This season Kevin Caldwell officiated at the Ability360 Rugby Rave in Phoenix, and Joe Bongiovanni served at the Vancouver tournament in March. By all accounts, this exchange was successful, and we look forward to expanding the program moving forward.

2017 – 2018 Season Metrics

USQRRRA members officiated 1,303 games (up 34 from last season) at 47 events (prior to Nationals) during this season. The weekend of November 9-11 saw 4 tournaments supported by 21 officials, and the weekend that spanned the last week of November and first week of December featured 5 events supported by our 30 of our officials. The new post season format of an Eastern and Western Semifinal tournaments held on the same weekend was supported by 14 referees.

Our total membership stands at 51 (28 male; 23 female), with 41 “active” (fully certified w/ game activity in 2018-2019 season) referees:

- Heartland – 15
- Mountain – 14
- Pacific – 9

With Mitch Carr's new responsibilities as head of the Americas Zone, he has stepped away from his role of Treasurer of our organization, and Bob Lopez has been elected as the new Treasurer. Many thanks to Mitch for his outstanding service, and congratulations to Bob, who will begin his 2nd stint as the association Treasurer.

Finally, this will be my last AGM report as Chairperson of the USQRRRA. Joe Bongiovanni is the incoming Chairperson, and he will assume this new role after Nationals. Please congratulate Joe and provide the same outstanding support to him as you have provided to me over the years I served in that role. It has been an absolute privilege and honor to represent the officials of the USQRRRA for 9 of the past 12 years. Going forward, I will continue to serve in various capacities supporting the sport we all love!

USQRA Classifier Report

Phyllis Palma

This year has been a tremendous year of growth for the sport of wheelchair rugby with the classification of huge numbers of new players, but also within our classifier team, with several new classifiers coming on board and other developing their skills to advance. In addition, we have had system improvements to allow data to be more readily accessible and efficient to track with the update of our USQRA database.

1. We were able to attend 9 tournaments across the nation. There were six Pre-Season tournaments attended. We welcomed the invitation to a newer tournament, Code of Honor, this year, as well as, continued appreciated support in Heartland All Sectionals were attended, and two classification panels were present at Nationals. This allowed us to accommodate 35 new athletes and 63 Review/FRD dates. Please see table below for tournaments and classification data for this season. USQRA classifiers also trained and certified five new classifiers and three classifiers advanced in certification level. In addition, to the typical training, the USQRA Basic Workshop was revised by Denise Anderson and Phyllis Palma to better reflect our recently updated manual. Additional trainings took place at tournaments regarding limb length measurements to promote consistency and standardization for measuring and assignments of sport classes.

- The following 38 active classifiers were involved in classification services and/or administration over the last three seasons and participated in either website development, database administration, manual revision task-force, education implementation or served as panel members which is an increase over the last couple years. There was an emphasis this season on the growth of (appropriate-need a word) level classifiers undergoing training to become chief classifiers with four newer classifiers in this role. There of course was continued efforts to bring on new classifiers with five new classifiers joining our team this year and receiving their Level 1 Certifications. In addition, three classifiers advanced in their levels this year. See the table below for the distribution of classifiers with regards to their levels.

- The following USQRA Classifiers participated at international events 2018-2019. Phyllis Palma and Anne Hart also serve on the IWRF Classification Committee. In addition, Anne Hart is the Chair of the IPC Classification Committee, a standing committee appointed by the IPC Governing Board, a member of the Steering Group for IPC Classification Research Centers, chaired the January and July 2018 IPC classification committee meetings and the July 2018 IPC educational conference for the International Federation Heads of Classification and National classification experts for all Para Sports, and is serving on the scientific committee for the 2019 VISTA Conference in Amsterdam in September 2019. In January 2019, Anne presented to the IPC Governing board in London on the state of code compliance in the Paralympic Movement, future directions for research in evidence-based classification and on the future of classification in Para sport.

- The USQRA classification Masterlist, which is a comprehensive list of all current and former players with sport class and sport class status remains updated on the USQRA website under the Classification page. In addition, the classification page is up to date on the USQRA website. There are also links to important documents that may be needed, including protest form and the most current manual, USQRA Classification Manual, 4th ed., 2017.

5. The age adjustments: this is a growing area amongst classification with younger athletes joining the teams. They are three athletes receiving their 0.5 deduction for <16 which expires on their 16th birthday with review sport status remaining until age 18. In addition, we have continued to implement the female deduction, female age deduction and >65 deduction. Among these in the current database, there are 50 females and of those two female athletes receiving an additional <45 deduction. Also, two athletes are receiving the <65 deduction.
6. The new version of the manual, USQRA Classification Manual, 4th ed., 2017 has been in effect and upcoming minor edits will be added for clarifications, etc. Also, the new IWRG rules were just approved by the IWRG board and will go into effect immediately post-Tokyo 2020, so the USQRA should be looking at those new rules when they come out next year, in preparation for what will need to be updated for the US. The major ones will be for limb deficiency and coordination. The classification cards are continuing to be updated to reflect the change in language to Confirmed sport class status from the previous Permanent status. New cards have also been created and will gradually be phased in as we exhaust the supplies of the older cards. Finally, to ensure accuracy of all classification cards, please bring all team cards to the classification panel when panels are present to allow them to be checked and updated as needed.

Hall of Fame Committee

Brad Mikkelsen/Steve Pate

We will be welcoming Kevin Orr as the newest member to the USQRA Hall of Fame! Kevin will be inducted in Rockford IL, very near his hometown, at the 2019 Nationals Banquet.

Steve Pate is appointed the Chairperson to the Hall of Fame Committee. For those who don't follow Team USA and World WC Rugby, Steve is strength and conditioning coach for National teams/players the last 6 years.

Check out the relatively new HoF website at usqra.org/hall-of-fame. The nominations committee (Angelo, Bob, Chris, Cliff, Steve, & Troy) is working on this, with some work still to be done. Plans to be caught up soon.

Mike Klonowski has been helping with the site and has been a great to work with!

We are grateful to Box Chairs for Sponsorship of an Everyday chair auctioned at Nationals the last two years however, very recently Box canceled their sponsorship. We don't know why as of yet. Once again funding the Hall of Fame comes into question.

The Hall thanks RibGrip hand rims for their donation of 2 pair of RibGrip covers. The current balance in account is $2,848.61, without accounting for this year's expenses.

Competition Committee

Steve Kenny

The Competition Committee is made up of an appointed chairperson, the USQRA Commissioner and all of the Regional Assistant Commissioners (RAC's). It is responsible for recommending team rankings and postseason seeding to the USQRA Board. With this year's new postseason structure, the committee committed to and delivered a monthly top 30 team rankings and an end of the season ranking. For each ranking, the committee discusses rosters, tournament results, and special circumstances, then each member submits their personal top 30 ranking and those are discussed and tabulated, (each #1 ranking = 30pts, #2 rank = 29pts, #3 rank = 28pts,...#29 rank = 2pts, #30 rank = 1pt.) resulting in one combined top 30 ranking with occasional ties. The committee must then approve that combined top 30 ranking before submitting it to the board for final approval. Seeding for postseason semifinals utilizes the rankings for teams 9-24 and Nationals seeding follows the usual top 30 ranking procedure with D2 relying heavily on semifinal results.

Some of our challenges are inconsistent teams, inaccurate score-sheet rosters, guest players, and teams that don't play often or only play within their area (geographically-driven). Do we need rule changes to address some of these challenges? It may also be beneficial to increase the size of the committee now that rankings carry more weight towards post season.

If there are any questions, concerns or suggestions please feel free to contact me directly.

USA Wheelchair Rugby (USAWR)

Mandy Goff/Beth Curry

2018 Snapshot

USA Wheelchair Rugby (USAWR) was fortunate enough to compete in three top sanctioned events in 2018 and finished on top at Quad Nations in England and Canada Cup in Vancouver. While World Championships fared a bit different with a Bronze medal finish, we as a program feel that we are in the most positive place as a team as we have been in quite some time. The team itself has focused a lot on mental training with our sports psychologist over the last two years and we feel this has impacted us greatly in the most positive of ways. It has allowed us to evaluate competitions in a different manner, making a plan of action after each win or loss.

Continued Partnerships

The most important partnerships for USAWR remains with Lakeshore Foundation as the High Performance Management Organization (HPMO) and the United States Olympic Committee (USOC) for funding and oversight. For those new to the league, Lakeshore Foundation is under contract with the USOC to manage the national team program and all funds received from the USOC flow through Lakeshore to the program. This relationship has been in place for close to 20 years and contractually since 2004-2005. While our primary source of funding comes from the USOC, Lakeshore has continuously committed funds to the program offsetting costs not covered by the allocation; specifically in the last season for additional competition expenses and the development program. Lakeshore continues to support the program by providing a full time staff member to run the program operations. Mandy Goff, High Performance Manager, has been in this role since 2011, but full time since 2016. Lakeshore is sad to announce the retirement of Beth Curry, Chief Program Officer as of March 31st. Beth has been closely involved in the program and has participated in the growth of the USAWR/USQRA relationship. While we hate to see her go, we wish her the best and trust that Lakeshore will take great steps when considering her replacement.

USAWR and USA Rugby (USAR) continue to engage in different partnership opportunities through tournaments and USA Rugby Trust events and while there is no formal agreement between the two, USAR remain committed to including USAWR in conversations when it comes to new sponsorship and engagement opportunities. USAWR continues to encourage those USQRA teams with local USAR clubs in their area to build upon those relationships. Lakeshore Foundation and USAWR are extremely pleased with the relationship that has been built with the USQRA over the last two years. Our Chief Program Officer, Beth Curry, continued to be involved on board calls and we will continue to include a member of the board on our Selection Committee each year. We feel that these two specific roles have contributed to transparency and continued important communication between the organizations.

2019 Forecast

USAWR Selection Camp will continue the first weekend of January each season, with the exception of 2020 (based on where New Years Day falls). For 2020, the camp will be hosted December 11-15, 2019 and be followed by a tremendously busy lead up to Tokyo. We continue to reserve these dates to allow athletes a consistent weekend for planning and also trying to coordinate with the USQRA calendar. We recognize that it's always hard to travel right after the new year, but if we do it any earlier it cuts into the holidays, there is potential for overlap with USQRA tournaments, and we also have to consider the Lakeshore facility availability. We explored a later option a few years ago and it didn't allow time for any training camps prior to competition and it really created issues with the USQRA weekends. The 2019 Selection Committee was comprised of six members; Mandy Goff, High Performance Manager (admin role/no vote); James Gumbert, Head Coach; Sue Tucker, Assistant Coach; Dave Ceruti, development coach; Will Groulx, Athlete Rep (no vote); and Mike Klonowski, USQRA Ex-Officio (no vote). Sixteen athletes were selected, two brand new to the program, and will train together up through the end of our season in October. All sixteen athletes will attend five training camps and three competitions; four being hosted at Lakeshore and one at the USOC Training Center in Colorado Springs. The first competition of the season is being held at Lakeshore Foundation and will be one of the top IWRF sanctioned events this year. We will play host to Australia, Great Britain, and Japan, May 22-25. The tournament will provide an "A" level classification panel giving team their only opportunity for classification prior to Parpan

American Games in August. The Parapan Am Games team will be announced at the conclusion of the May camp (on or before May 31) and the team will travel to Lima, Peru for the Games August 17-28. This competition will be our final opportunity for automatic qualification into the Tokyo 2020 Paralympic Games with only the top team from the Americas Zone moving on. The culmination of our seasons will take place at the World Wheelchair Rugby Championships (WWRC) being held in Tokyo in October. This is the same event that was held in 2015 in collaboration with World Rugby (the international federation for rugby) and the Rugby World Cup. It will be a tremendous opportunity for our sport to leverage the relationship with our able bodied counterparts and to bring new fans into the fold. Finally, we will be receiving grant dollars from the USOC for continued development of our emerging athlete pipeline and we plan on bringing in athletes this season to participate alongside our national team. Those camps will take place in April, July and then a stand alone camp with USAWR athlete mentors in the fall. Athletes for the camps are submitted and selected by a committee comprised of USAWR coaching staff (both national team and development) in addition to four USAWR athlete representatives.

Part of our responsibility as an HPMO is work with the USOC on a Diversity and Inclusion Plan and reporting data to them specifically as it relates to the national team demographics. We asked for the survey to be included with the USQRA team registration and hope to continue that in the coming years so that we can include the data with our report. While we don't have direct governance over the USQRA we feel it's important to share our best practices like D&I and SafeSport with them as in an effort to bring the sport to the forefront as a leader in the Paralympic movement. Count on us to continue pushing for accountability and transparency between our two organizations and as we move forward working together we request that if you have questions or feedback, please reach out.
