Julie Rzeppa: (2023-2024 Board Member)

"I feel I would be a great Board Member at HCHC because last year I served as Director of Apparel and Equipment. I got to know all of our current vendors and understand timing on ordering gear so there won't be delays when our regular season starts in the fall. I also have prior experience from serving on Monroe Elementary PTO Board as Co-Vice President 2017 - 2018 and Co-President 2018 - 2019.

I learned that there is a lot of planning, executing and follow thru goes into this organization and would like to continue with aiding in running a successful hockey club. Our mission statement is to 'Deliver an exceptional hockey experience to each of the players, families and alumni,' and I feel with my contributions, the club will continue to do so."

Jay Scharkey:

"I have spent over 20 years actively advising, representing, and serving as outside counsel to a number of boards of directors (and individual board members) of non-profit companies, both domestically and internationally, ranging from The Grand Teton Music Festival in Jackson Hole to the Savile Row Bespoke Association in London.

Among the non-profits I have advised and counseled are boards (and individual board members) of several youth sports organizations, including the Southside Catholic Conference and the Illinois Youth Soccer Association, in highly publicized, federal-court litigation. I also have experience dealing with AHAI's Rules & Ethics Committee on behalf of players, families, and board members.

Youth sports organizations and their constituencies present a unique set of challenges and demands that require consensus building and negotiation. I have successfully confronted and resolved many such challenges. Beyond my experience with non-profit organizations, I am a hockey player and fanatic. I have coached youth hockey as a way of giving back to the community and teaching our youth about the greatest sport of all time.

Jay Scharkey cont'd:

My experience as a business owner would also benefit the Club. In 2017, I left a large Chicago firm and started my own. In addition to managing an active practice, I have primary responsibility for the firm's finances, operations, and business development as well as the firm's marketing and branding strategy, including market-facing communications.

I am committed to this Club's success. I have given freely of my time, providing guidance on an overhaul of the Club's Bylaws, assisting with fundraising efforts, and generally acting as outside counsel to the Board. In addition, my firm has made charitable gifts to the Club to help ensure it has the resources it needs for player development and to provide an exceptional hockey experience for the players, families, and alumni, consistent with the Club's mission.
