Director Notes

Club Director Bill Larson has logged plenty of miles this past month. He is once again adding to his resume of nicknames. Once referred to as Mr. July, he is now diligently putting an extreme amount of work in October. Besides numerous open gyms and joining some North Tartan athletes on unofficial visits, he extends his role at the National level. During the week of October 15-20, Bill was at the AAU National Convention in Cleveland, Ohio. As one of the 9 members of the Girls Basketball Board he continues to work closely with the Chair of Girls Basketball, Boo Williams. Bill was once again voted to lead the eligibility and rules committee. "Mr. October" will be traveling to Orlando, FL Oct. 25-28 for the annual Nike Directors meeting, only 32 Directors are invited.

Cayla McMorris – University of Wisconsin

Alumni Update

Each newsletter we plan on updating our readers on the life of a former North Tartan athlete. This month's selection is Cayla McMorris. Cayla played high school ball at Park Center High School. Cayla's North Tartan career spanned five years playing in the most prestigious tournaments in the country. At the end of her North Tartan career ESPN had Cayla ranked as one of the top 100 players in the country. After being highly recruited by schools all over the country Cayla accepted a scholarship to play for the University of Wisconsin. While playing for the Badgers, Cayla scored 1,074 points which puts her 21st on the schools all-time scorer list. Twice she was named All-Big Ten Honorable Mention. Cayla graduated with a degree in Communication Arts with emphasis in television and production. After a distinguished playing career for University of Wisconsin, Cayla has taken her talents overseas to Turkey where she is playing professionally for Nesbie Aydin.
