

Lakeshore Hockey Adult League Rating System

Rating Level:

1. No Experience. Should probably consider a different hobby but sticks with the dream. (F Player).
2. True Beginner. Less than two years of league play. Loves the game and started late in life. Good enough guy to not say the team is full. (D- Player)
3. Beginner. Two to five years of league play. Weaker skater and blames his stick for bad shots. (D Player)
4. Excelled Beginner/Out Of Shape/45 & Older. Five years or more of league play. Lakeshore Lifer. Uses adult league to get away from his wife. (D+ Player)
5. Middle Of The Road. The average skater, decent shot, cares more about the bar after than the game currently. Experienced Recreational Player (C- Player)
6. Gas Still In Tank. Good skater, good shot, and still cares. Claims playing at higher level than did in their life. "HockeyDB made a mistake that year" (C Player)
7. Advanced Adult Player. Great skater, great shot, and constantly criticizes the referees. Can't let it go. Best years are getting behind them. (C+ Player)
8. Typically, under 30 years of age. College (DIII), Mid-level Juniors, AAA Level, Prep School, and Exceptional Adult Player. Still uses bag given to them at the highest-level they played (B Player).
9. College (DI), Minor Professional Hockey, Europe, or High Level Juniors. (A Player)
10. "The Show". Best Of The Best. Made It. The 0.0000000001% (A+ Player)
