

What is Summer Select?

Summer Select requires an additional tryout and at its core is an opportunity for BCC Select players to play more baseball over the summer and experience the life of travel baseball. Each team will practice once or twice a week over the summer and compete in 2-4 local travel tournaments, starting with a local Memorial Day Weekend Tournament, and finishing before August. The 12u team goes to Cooperstown DreamsPark each summer.

Does every player make the team?

No, every player who is interested in playing must try out. Each team will have anywhere between 10-14 players make the team.

What is the competition like during these tournaments?

Competition can be very tough during the summer tournaments. The teams will play against local and out of state travel teams. Some of these teams have been playing together at a high level for a long time. Summer Select is a step above Select competition and will be a challenge.

What does a typical tournament look like?

Most tournaments are played over the weekend. While there could be an occasional Friday night game, generally teams will play 2 games on Saturday for seeding purposes. On Sunday, a single elimination tournament is played. Seeding is based on pool play from Saturday..

When will we know our schedule?

Typically, game times and locations are not released until the week of the tournament. We will have the tournament weekends picked out by April. We plan to participate in a Memorial Day Tournament to kick off the summer schedule and finish before August hits. Besides the Memorial Day Tournament, the team will begin practicing after the Spring Select season ends.

What tournaments will we play in?

The tournament schedule will not be finalized until the mid-Spring, so we expect that players will be available on Memorial Day Weekend and June and July.

Does Summer Select cost extra?

Yes, there is an additional fee to play Summer Select. The cost goes towards uniforms, tournament fees, and insurance. The summer season typically costs under $600.
