

About the NC Elite National and Modified National Team Program - designed for the athlete pursuing high level competition, often aspiring future collegiate-level volleyball opportunities. These teams have competitive tournament and training schedules and will face high level competition from across the country, requiring a significant time and personal commitment from the student athlete. NC Elite coaches and administrators have helped student-athletes earn more than $12M in scholarship and athletic aid and are committed to helping players and parents successfully navigate the college recruiting process.

About the NC Elite Regional+ Program: designed for players with multiple interests or the multi-sport athlete seeking skill development and competition experience, and to athletes new to the sport, or aspiring to make competitive Middle School and High School volleyball teams. Regional teams play the majority of their season in North Carolina, but also compete in at least two multi-day tournaments. The Regional teams provide players experience in competing in Carolina Region tournaments, supplemented with competition against other NC Elite Regional Teams.

Practice Player Program - Practice players are players who participate in team practices and enjoy the benefits of other programming offered in the organization, without the commitment to travel. These positions also offer the ability for teams to work on game-scenarios and line-ups by filling the roster and competing in scrimmages during team practices. Practice players do not compete in tournaments but may participate in NC Elite scrimmages and may serve as back-up players in case of illness or injury to a team member, and at the discretion of the NC Elite coaches and administrators.

- Practice players cost: $1500 (National), $1100 (Regional+); uniforms are not required.
- Practice player positions are offered/accepted based on the player's skills and availability and a player can join at any time during the club season.
- Practice players are required to attend tryout sessions (or individual practice session to confirm skill level match). Please let the NC Elite staff know if you are only trying out for a practice player position during on-site check-in at tryouts or by emailing info@ncelitevb.org.
