Drop Off Procedure

Parents will be asked to arrive 10 minutes before scheduled practice and drop their son off at designated drop off parking lot. The player will then go directly to the sanitization area and wash their hands with sanitizer. The player will then go to the designated baseline to hang their bag in between fence posts. Bags will be at least 6 feet apart.

Once practice is over, practice will end on time, we would ask that parents arrive on time to pick players up at designated pickup lots. Players will wash hands at sanitization station after practice.

Practice Guidelines

Masks at this time will not be required but are not prohibited. If your player wants to wear a mask they can. Coaches can also wear masks if they choose.

6 feet distance will be enforced during practice. No group huddles and dugouts will be fenced off.

Also, temporary fencing will be strung out between fields to avoid players from walking on to other fields.

Parents will be asked to stay in their vehicles and not allowed to walk around the complex during practice.

Concession stand will be closed.

Bathrooms will be closed, the city is providing porta-potties.

Practice plans will be sent out to coaches before each week and are to be followed to that we have uniformity on drills that promote social distancing.

Return to play waivers will be required for your son to practice.

All coaches will be required to complete Trusted Coaches Safe Sport and a background check.

Players will not be allowed to have sunflower seeds.

Baseball buckets will be designated for each level and balls will be sanitized before and after each practice. Any other common touch items will be sanitized before and after each practice.

We are requesting players use their own equipment. No equipment will be shared between players. If a player needs a bat or helmet Hermantown baseball will provide one for the player.

Practice Pods will be as such for each level. Practice pods will stay the same, no switching kids between pods.
