

Hall of Fame Pam Dreyer

- Born: August 9, 1981 Eagle River, Anchorage, AK
- Played hockey at Brown University, where she earned a degree in human biology
- As a sophomore, finished first in the nation with a .941 save percentage and tied for first with seven shutouts
- Led her team to the ECAC Championship and Frozen Four during her junior year of college
- Excelled as a high school soccer player
- Played High School Hockey on a boys team for Chugiak High
- Dreyer, of Chugiak High fame, became a national name at Brown University, where she racked up a 40-23-8 record from 2000 to 2003
- As a sophomore, she led the NCAA with .941 save percentage and seven shutouts.
- As a junior, she led Brown to the ECAC Championship and a Frozen Four appearance.
- By 2004, she was the No. 1 goalie in the country.
- Dreyer was at her best at the 2004 World Championships, where she earned all-tournament recognition and handed Canada its first-ever loss in tournament history with a 26-save performance in Team USA's 3-1 win. She finished second in the tournament with a .929 save percentage.
- Dreyer tore her rotator cuff at the end of the 2004 while diving to make a save during a game against Canada. She underwent two surgeries and eight months of rehab to get back to the team.
- The first Alaskan to play hockey in the Olympics, Eagle River's Pam Dreyer won a bronze medal with Team USA as a goaltender at the 2006 Games in Torino, Italy.
- She also owns a silver medal from the 2004 World Championships, making her one of the most decorated Alaska athletes of all-time.

Inducted September 10, 2022