Week 11

KICKOFF NOTES

- Final weekend of the regular season across all three Conferences
- The Valley Huskers face the VI Raiders for the first time since their amazing comeback win in Week 1. Both teams are playoff bound, however positioning is still yet to be determined
- The Kamloops Broncos are trying to avoid their first ever winless season. In 2007 they were 1-9 and this weekend host the Langley Rams
- With a win on Saturday night the Okanagan Sun will capture home field advantage throughout the BC Conference playoffs.
- For just the third time in BC history, three different quarterbacks have passed the 2,000 passing yard plateau. Julian Wytinck (Huskies) has 2415, Duncan Little (Rams) 2363 and Jacob Laberge (Raiders) 2211. The last time it happened was in 2014
- The Ottawa Sooners visit the GTA Grizzlies in the lone Ontario Conference game
- A playoff preview in Saskatoon, where the Hilltops host the Winnipeg Rifles
- Part 2 of the battle for Edmonton kicks off on Sunday when the Huskies meet the Wildcats. With a win the Huskies would clinch second place and a home playoff date
- The Calgary Colts are trying to avoid a winless season. They also didn't win a game in 2013
