ANNOUNCEMENT: New IYHL Logos

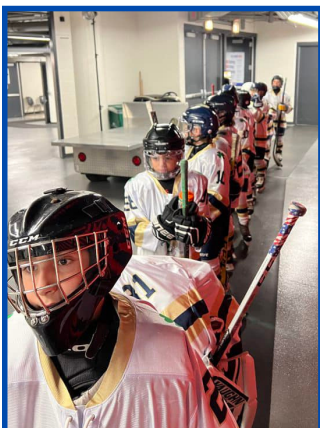

We are excited to announce our new, unified IYHL logos! We acknowledge that changing something like this comes with a lot of emotions tied to our history and link to Notre Dame, however with these ties our league has never been able to truly own our logos. Know that our traditional leprechaun isn't going away completely, but will continue to make appearances in "throwback" and "classic" apparel options and images.

HundredX-give to IYHL without opening your wallet

Win a pizza party for your hockey player! The group that completes the most HundredX surveys will win a pizza and skate party! Even better- each survey completed means $1.60 donated toward IYHL player, coaching and goalie development! Sign up here!

IYHL in Action

Coaching Corner

All certified coaches (by 11/15) will receive an IYHL polo shirt. As a reminder, in order to be on the ice and on the bench you need to have completed USA Hockey’s coaching certification process. Learn more here.

During the October IYHL board meeting, a new spectator policy was adopted. This policy is in line with what MidAm Hockey suggests and is a good reminder of how spectators in the stand should conduct themselves. Click the button to the right for the policy. A link to the reporting form can be found on the IYHL homepage.

Our custom jersey hoodies ($52) and yard signs ($20) are currently available for purchase. The Select design reflects our new logo. All other designs will remain the same for the current season and we will be updating designs next year to be in line with our streamlined look. Click here to order. Sale closes 11/12/23.

Q: My son’s 10U coach is constantly talking about the kids having fun, but I have yet to hear him talk about the discipline, hard work and commitment it takes to play hockey. When is USA Hockey going to stop talking about fun?

A: The answer is simple. Never. Fun is an important part of hockey at all ages... \(Continue reading here\)
