TALKING POINTS

RIVALRY SATURDAY

In the final day of competition here at the 2019 World Junior Summer Showcase fans, scouts and spectators alike will be treated to two of the biggest rivalries in hockey. At 1 p.m. ET, Sweden will take on Finland and be followed by a tilt featuring the United States and Canada. Both games will be broadcast live on NHL Network in the United States and TSN in Canada.

This is the first Showcase meeting between Sweden and Finland this year. At the 2019 IIHF World Junior Championship last December, the two teams opened tournament play against one another in a 2-1 Swedish win off a pair of goals from Erik Brannstrom. Aarne Talvitie scored in the loss for Finland. The U.S. and Canada are meeting for the second time this Showcase. To read a brief summary of that game, see page 2.

GOLD-MEDAL GAME REGULARS

The last three IIHF World Junior Championships have ended with the gold-medal game featuring two of the four teams participating this week. In 2017, the U.S. defeated Canada in a thrilling 5-4 shootout victory before Canada topped Sweden, 3-1, a year later. This year, Finland edged Team USA, 3-2.

In fact, the last time one of the four participating teams did not capture the IIHF World Junior Championship was 2011, when Russia edged Canada, 5-3. In that eight-year span, Finland (2014, 2016, 2019) has won three gold medals, Canada (2015, 2018) and the U.S. (2013, 2017) have each won twice and Sweden has won once (2012). Additionally, the last time an IIHF World Junior Championship gold-medal game did not feature the U.S., Canada, Finland or Sweden was 2000, when the Czech Republic defeated Russia in a 1-0 overtime shootout.

2019 HLINKA GRETZKY CUP OPENS NEXT WEEK

The 2019 Hlinka Gretzky Cup will be played Aug. 5-10 in Piešťany, Slovakia & Břeclav, Czech Republic, with the U.S. competing alongside Canada, Czech Republic, Finland, Russia, Slovakia, Sweden and Switzerland. A year ago, the tournament was held in Edmonton and Red Deer, Alberta, where Canada claimed the tournament title following a 6-2 victory over Sweden. In the third-place game, Russia defeated the United States, 5-4.

The U.S. Under-18 Men's Select Team comprises of 22 players who skated in USA Hockey's Boys Select 17 Player Development Camp at the end of June. Pat Ferschweiler, associate head coach of Western Michigan and former assistant coach with the NHL's Detroit Red Wings, will serve as head coach and be joined by assistant coaches Mark Dennehy (Binghamton Devils (AHL)), Roger Grillo (USA Hockey) and Kevin Moore (Adrian College).
