Spring in Vail is a magical time when winter transitions into warmer days, offering a mix of skiing, sunshine, and outdoor adventures.

Perfect for those who want a mix of winter and warmer-weather activities, fewer crowds, and a fun, festive atmosphere. Whether you're skiing in a T-shirt, attending a wine festival, or enjoying a peaceful hike, spring in Vail is an unforgettable experience!

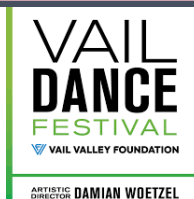

A fun, end-of-season celebration with free concerts, après parties, and the legendary pond skating competition, where skiers try to glide across a pool of water in costume.

As the snow recedes, wildlife becomes more active. Visitors might spot elk, deer, and bald eagles while exploring the area. Enjoy live music, cocktails, and mountain views while relaxing after a day on the slopes.

Popular trails like Booth Falls Trail and Gore Creek Trail offer stunning early spring scenery with blooming wildflowers and flowing waterfalls.

vail veterans program provides freedom on the slopes for wounded soldiers

You fall down, you get back up again. That's the philosophy for Daryl Joiner, an Army veteran who was a part of the Vail Veterans Program's Winter Mountain Adventure Program March 2-6. Joiner learned how to ski bike on Vail Mountain along with 21 other wounded veterans, their caregivers and several military hospital staff.

The Vail Veterans Program not only offers adaptive sports but also provides a transformative opportunity for veterans like Joiner, who find strength in the mountains to keep moving forward. They have an office at Vail Run in case you'd like to stop by for information.

One item is the ability for a US based owner to purchase a Travel Insurance Policy for $83.00 to cover their owner assessments for the year if they suddenly can't come to Vail. There is a link under the Heading 'Travel Insurance' on the red left hand panel. Once you click on the travel insurance tab you will be taken to a new page with a brief description and a link to the plan pages. The insurance is sold by Berkshire Hathaway.

$83.00 is cheap for a peace of mind if due to a covered reason you can't use your unit.
