WEEK 5 GAME 1

MILE HIGH BUILT 27 THE BROS 26

On a chilly fall day, week 5 kicked off with a super close game between Mile High Built and The Bros. Living up to their billing, both QB's dazzled us with their great play. Donell Wells would go onto run for 155 yards and put up 227 yards through the air while passing for all three of his touchdowns. Of course Artie Barceló wouldn't be out done and he went on to throw for 313 yards and three touchdowns but also add one td on the ground. All three of Artie's td passes went to Tommy Hilbert. After a huge 4th down stop in the second half, Mile High Built took the ball over at their one yard line. It only took Artie one play to get the ball in his own red zone as he connected with Ross Alisiani on an 87 yard pass. Only an extra point ended up being the difference in this one as Mile High Built got the 27 to 26 win. They can thank Moss Henderson who had a long pass in the end zone that he would usually make the catch 99 out 100, but this one play turned out to be the 1 he missed. With the win, Mile High Built has locked up a playoff spot but will try to get a higher seed when they face the Rockers in week 6. The Bros on the other hand have some work to do still but they do control their own destiny as they sit in fourth place right now. They first will need to take on Colorado Menace on Sunday and a win for The Bros will eliminate Menace from playoff contention.

WEEK 5 GAME 2

CTS 07 COLORADO HUSKERS 06

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

I don't know if it was the chilly weather or what, but we had a second 1 point win for game #2 on the day. This had playoff atmosphere written all over it as any play could have been the difference. To start the game, Julian Banks would connect with Antoine Kelly on the first possession to take the 6 to 0 lead. It was a perfectly placed ball to allow for the catch and run. That wound up being it for the Huskers on offense for the day as they never got within striking distance again. CTS had its own struggles moving the ball until the second half, when Mitch Collin made a nice catch to help set up a Deuce Richardson TD run. While the stats don't really show it, the Huskers pass rush was a huge reason for CTS's lack of offensive production. The extra point would end up being the difference in this one to keep CTS unbeaten. They have not yet locked up the #1 seed quite yet, as they still have to face NoCo Bulls and Mile High Built to finish off the regular season. First up will be NoCo and if Mike Timm isn't able to play then I can see CTS coming away with the win. The Huskers will take on the Goats and a win will help keep them in the playoff conversation.

WEEK 5 GAME 3

NOCO BULLS 24 DENVER GOATS 00

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

The close games ended there as the NoCo Bulls won in a route against the Denver Goats. At half the Bulls were up 12 to nothing and didn't appear to be slowing down in the second half as they got the 24 to 0 win. David Knighton was precise and efficient on his way to a 4 passing touchdown day. All four touchdowns were spread out to four different wide outs. For NoCo, they answered the pass rushing question for at least this week as they racked up 6 sacks as a team. Three of those sacks came at the hands of Martavius Foster. As for the Goats they did have Matt Keeling back in the lineup at QB. Being under as much pressure that Matt was makes it understandable why there wasn't any offensive production to speak of. The Goats have been eliminated from the playoffs and are now trying to stay in the A league. Shockingly even though the Bulls are sitting in second place ahead of Mile High Built, they technically have not locked in their playoff spot. This Sunday could bring some clarity to their playoff situation.

WEEK 5 GAME 4

COLORADO MENACE 34 DENVER ROCKERS 28

The last game of the day between Colorado Menace and the Denver Rockers ended up being a closer game than many had thought. In the first half the game was back and forth. Just before half time Menace was able to connect on a long touchdown that gave them the 21 to 15 lead. The Rockers were able to come back and even had the ball on the last drive of the game, that was when Menace's d-line turned it up a notch to end the game and get the 35 to 28 win. Two major plays stand out in this one, the long pass before half and a tipped pass turned pix six by Donovan Haynes while on his way to try for a sack. That play happened inside the Rockers own 5 or 10 yard line. If you take those two plays away we could be talking about the Rockers first win instead of another loss. Menace had very solid O-line play all game and didn't allow a sack. There was pressure but the offensive play calling easily negated that pressure. Trevor Okamoto was on point in this one as he threw 3 TD's and ran one more in. His counterpart, Pat Yanda was no slouch as he threw 4 touchdowns. The Rockers will be tasked with trying to stop Artie Barceló and Mile High Built this week. Menace will need to beat out The Bros if they want to remain in the playoff hunt for another week.

SWAT 42 OLD SCHOOL 0

With the temperature steadily dropping, the significance of the games kept rising. For Swat a win would keep them in the playoff race but for Old School they are just trying to get a notch in the Win column. Swat would get that W in a full on route. Winning 42 to 0 and getting the mercy rule around the 2 minute mark in the game. Swat's defense was totally dominant from start, by getting a pix six, to finish by completely stifling Old School's offense. Without their top pass rushers, Swat still could not be stopped from getting to the Quarterback. Swat is tied for fourth in the standings and will look to gain ground after a match up with Sudden Impact on Sunday. Swat will look to ride their defense against the struggling Sudden Impact offense. Swat will need to fend off Sudden's late heroics as Sudden Impact always seem to make a late surge after going down early. Old School on the other hand has been eliminated and will look to hand Kryptonite their first loss of the season. Old School will need to find a way to get points on the board against the top defense in B league. If Old School's defense is vulnerable in any way against Kryptonite's offense, then it will turn out to be an extremely long day for Old School.

KRYPTONITE 20 SUDDEN IMPACT 13

Going into the day, the game between Kryptonite and Sudden Impact could have gone either way. Kryptonite came in with a top defense but an offense still trying to fire on all cylinders while Sudden Impact are starting to become the comeback kids. Kryptonite would jump out on top after Dero Ard ran about 40 yards into the end zone. On the ensuing possession Steven Heit nabbed an interception that Kryptonite would eventually capitalize off, making the score 13 to 0. At that point I was thinking this game might start to get out of hand in a hurry but Sudden Impact would find the end zone just before half, getting the score to 13 to 7. There wasn't much scoring after half until the 2 minute warning when Sudden Impact had a 40 yard TD run from their quarterback to tie the game. That come back by Sudden Impact would fall short as Kryptonite scored in the final minute to get the 20 to 13 win and remain undefeated. With the win, Kryptonite has locked up playoff spot and will hope to get a first round bye locked up in week 6. Kryptonite will look to iron things out on offense when they face the 0 and 5 Old School team. For Sudden Impact the schedule doesn't let up as they face the always physically though SWAT team. As of right now Sudden Impact is on the outside looking in for a playoff spot which makes the game against Swat so intriguing.

OILERS 26 DENVER LIGHTNING 18

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

The game of the week didn't quite live up to the billing even though the final score was somewhat close. The Oilers got the ball to begin with and grabbed a quick 7 to 0 lead after Mike Uribe connected with Ryan Conrad-Davis on a 60 yard pass. The Oilers would get the ball back an interception on Lightning's first drive. The Oilers would go on to take a 14 to 0. The game ended up not being in question from that point on. Before you knew it the Oilers held a 26 to 6 lead around the 5 min mark in the game. Lightning would go on to get two more scores but a little too late for the full comeback. All three touchdowns went to Jalene Simpson for Lightning. The Oilers win is not shocking but how they pretty much dominated the game is what was shocking. With the win the Oilers are locked into a playoff spot. The work isn't finished as they will look to get the #1 seed and a first round bye. For Lightning the loss hurts but they still look to be in very good playoff position. The Oilers will take on the stingy defense of FOE in week 6 while Lightning will look to bounce back against the Eagles.

WEEK 5 GAME 8

FOE 19 MUSTANGS 00

After a close and disappointing loss to Sudden Impact, FOE came in looking to get back on track against the Mustangs. FOE would start the game by getting an offensive touchdown giving them the 6 to 0 lead. Throughout the game, the Mustangs could not get anything going on the offensive side of the ball but their defense played a heck of a game. This game was filled with interceptions from both sides. The Mustangs grabbed 4 interceptions in the red zone to stop FOE but their offense could not take advantage. FOE had great field position all day but also couldn't take advantage. They would get 2 pick six's on defense to get the final score of 19 to 0. The pass rush FOE has is in the top three of the league and could be what propels FOE into the postseason. FOE is sitting in very solid position and will look to give the Oilers their first loss of the season. The Mustangs will continue their playoff push against the Sharks. Both offenses have struggled so that could be a straight defensive battle.

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

In the battle of the winless, the Sharks were able to come out on top with a final score of 27 to 14. The scoring for the Sharks got started on the first play of the game on an 80 yard run. Going into half, the Sharks held a 19 to 0 lead and are looking the best they have all season. Having guys show up an hour before the game seems to have helped these guys out rather than showing up just at game time. The Eagles made mental mistakes throughout the game and against a more physically talented team, you can't have that. The Sharks stave off being eliminated from playoffs for at least one more week. The Eagles on the other hand have been eliminated from the playoffs. The Eagles appear to be completely out matched going against the Denver Lightning. The Sharks will go up against the stingy defense of the Mustangs but the speed of the Sharks could find openings to score some points.

The rules are there for a reason. If fights happen then we may lose the rights to play on the amazing fields we have. Also, after each game the sidelines will be checked to make sure the trash has been cleaned up. Fines will be implemented to teams that leave their sidelines trashed. So please clean up after yourselves and your fans. Lets have good sportsmanship and have a great season.
