INDIVIDUAL
CROSS COUNTRY CHAMPION

VONNIE BIGELOW
Edina

Vonnie Bigelow was a force to be reckoned with in 1984, winning over defending champion, Ann Jones, with a convincing 23 second victory. Jones, who contracted an illness called toxoplasmosis after her win in 1983, struggled to get her strength back but finally did recover in time for the second place finish. Stillwater would win the team title, led by two ninth-graders, Ann Jones and Kris Hansen, and tenth-grader Sonya Stoklosa. Bill Simpson's girls would dominate again in 1985, 1986 and 1987, as Kris Hansen would win two individual titles. Her senior year, Hansen would opt to ski the World Junior Nordic Championship and miss out on a third title.
