WEEK 3 GAME 1

THE BROS 19 COLORADO HUSKERS 2

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

Week 3 was filled with blowouts and the closest game in A league was the 19 to 2 win by the Bros over the Huskers. The Bros defense set the tone with Moss Henderson getting a pick six on the Huskers first possession. Henderson had a heck of a game as he tallied 111 yards on three receptions and one touchdown reception. The Bros defense was flying around and never let the Huskers get in any sort of groove. The second half is when the Bros offense came alive as Donell Wells was able to connect for two touchdown passes. As for the Huskers they didn't quite have all their players for this one. That is no excuse since everyone has to play with whoever shows up. The Huskers did have two defensive backs come up with sacks. The Bros sit in third place right now and look to have an inside track to one of the playoff spots. It looks like Donell Wells is getting back into his groove at just the right time for a playoff push. The Huskers on the other hand have to face NoCo Bulls and CTS in back to back weeks. That is some tough sledding in the peak time of the season. The Huskers will need more out of their play makers in order to turn their season around.

WEEK 3 GAME 2

MILE HIGH BUILT 47 DENVER GOATS 00

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

Now some may say 19 to 2 isn't really a blowout but I can say with confidence that 48 to 6 is. That 48 to 6 was the score of the Mile High Built vs Goats game. MHB just totally dominated this game and unsurprisingly Artie Barceló was the power behind the offensive output. Artie is like the Bobby Flay of football, slicing, dicing, and sautéing the opposition. He torched them to a tune of 7 total touchdowns, four through the air and three on the ground. The Goats had absolutely no answer for Mile High Built's offense... or defense for that matter. With the Goats normal QB out of town they turned to Anthony Rankin to take the snaps. Actually in my opinion Rankin gives the Goats the best chance to win. MHB pass rush was just too overwhelming and without a big time difference maker on offense the Goats had no answer. The biggest bright spot for the Goats was Austin Ryan who was the leading receiver with 5 rec and 80yards and an interception on defense. I think it's time I point out the elephant in the room, it's looking like the A league status will come down to the Goats final game against the Rockers. The Goats will face CTS, NoCo Bulls and the Huskers in the next three weeks and those teams just look to have the superior talent. As for Mile High Built they are looking more like they'll be dancing come October 28th. MHB has to still face off against Menace, The Bros, Rockers, and CTS before anything is a lock.

WEEK 3 GAME 3

CTS 32 COLORADO MENACE 06

Once again CTS has shown why they are considered the top team in the state of Colorado. They put a 32 to 6 beat down on Colorado Menace to retain an unbeaten record this season. They did give up their first touchdown of the season on a pass from Trevor Okamoto to Eric Dynes in the second half of the game. For CTS, it's hard to continue picking out players as they are such a deep team with talent across the board. Mitch Collin showed up once again making two great catches for touchdowns on forth downs. Deuce Richardson threw for four touchdowns and ran one in himself. On the defensive side, Anthony Clayton tallied 3 sacks on the day and Cam Lewis came away with two interceptions. I just don't see how anyone can beat CTS with how they are playing right now. As for Menace they continue to grow with a lot of new faces. Three weeks and three different offensive line combinations hasn't been the most ideal situation. Even with the change on the line, Trevor Okamoto is looking like he is settling in as Menace's QB. The big issue is when Trevor has made mistakes it has put tremendous pressure on the defense. The defense has shown to be good but at times have given up the big play. Donovan Haynes has taken the lead in the sack race after he got ahold of two on the day. I do have to give a shout out to Takeyon Harrison for rumbling stumbling his way into the end zone even though he tried to pitch the ball to give someone else the glory.

WEEK 3 GAME 4

NOCO BULLS 32 DENVER ROCKERS 07

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

Redemption is best served with a 32 to 7 dredging from the NoCo Bulls against the Rockers. With fairly identical rosters to when they met in the Best of the Best to tournament, NoCo Bulls did not take the Rockers for granted this time around. David Knighton stood in the pocket and fired completion after completion. Those completions added up to four passing touchdowns for Knighton. While he spread the ball around fairly evenly, George Hill was the top targeted receiver as he had 6 receptions. Statistically NoCo Bulls defense didn't shine as bright as their offense as Mike Timm only managed one sack on the day but did get an interception from the line. The Rockers offensive line and Pat Yanda's quick release was what helped in the lack of sacks. For the Rockers they saw a little spark from Rob Galena as he got two sacks to go along with his seven receptions on the day. The Bulls will look to continue their unbeaten streak against the Huskers on Sunday. Like CTS, the Bulls don't show a ton of weaknesses and are on a B line to get redemption on CTS for last season's championship. The Rockers will try their hand at the ultra-athletic Bros team. The Rockers need to work on not give up possession deep on their side of the field. Like I mentioned on the Goats, the Rockers hope to stay in A league could very likely come down to the last week of the season vs the Goats.

WEEK 3 GAME 5

KRYPTONITE 06 MUSTANGS 00

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

Just like the A League, the B league was filled with almost nothing but blow outs. The closest game ended up being the Mustangs vs Kryptonite. This was a very boring game to watch to be honest, as there ended up only being one score the entire game. That one score came on an option to TJ Benavides who scampered his way from about the five yard line. Kryptonite had great field position all game and if I had to guess, they had an average starting field position of about the Mustangs 40yd line. Kryptonite just kept stalling out when at the goal line. Speaking of stalling out, the Mustangs couldn't just muster a total of zero points but very little yards as well. I want to say there were only one or possibly two drives in the first half where the Mustangs got past the 50 yard line. In the second half of the game the Mustangs did not pass the mid-field at all. Both defenses showed up on the day but both offenses need vast improvement in the near future. Kryptonite is sitting at 3-0 and looking like an almost lock for a playoff spot. They'll have the Sharks, Sudden Impact, Old School, and Oilers left on the schedule. Two of those four look very winnable and we could see Kryptonite lock in their postseason spot by week 5. For the Mustangs they are bunched in the middle but have a good chance of making the playoffs. We'll have a better idea after this weekend's game against the Eagles.

WEEK 3 GAME 6

SWAT 40 EAGLES 00

The second game on the docket had Swat going up against the Eagles. The closest this game ever was, was at the beginning whistle as Swat got the 40 to 0 win. That is no shot at the Eagles, they were just over matched in every aspect of the game. Swat got the scoring started with a TD pass to offensive lineman Nick Calhoun. That was the first of three td's in the first half for Swat as they took a 20 to 0 lead into halftime. Not much else went right for the Eagles in the second half, as Swat got the mercy rule win once they went up 40 to 0 with just over 2mins remaining in the game. Swat had an extremely dominate pass rush even without their top two rushers. The last two games Swat looks like one of the favorites to win the B league but they'll have to go up against two undefeated teams in the coming weeks. First up is the undefeated Oilers this Sunday. That game might just be the game of the week. The Eagles are falling further and further away from playoff action. If they plan on making the playoffs this season they'll need to get a win this Sunday.

WEEK 3 GAME 7

DENVER LIGHTNING 34 SUDDEN IMPACT 06

COLORADO FLAG
FOOTBALL CORNER

Well my prediction that the game between Lightning and Sudden Impact was going to be the game of the week, turned out to be wrong. Wrong in the fact that I predicted a back and fourth game. The game turned into a blow out just like almost all the games this week were. Douglas Clinkscales broke the scoring flood gates open. Lightning's defense was all over Sudden Impact and got an interception at the 4:40 mark before half. They ended up punching it in to make the halftime score 14 to 0. Lightning would go on to receive the second half kickoff and take advantage by going up 20 to 0. Sudden Impact would eventually get on the scoreboard at the 3:30 mark but the score was 28 to 6 at that time. Lightning would finish the game off with a final score of 34 to 6. The Lightning have the leading scoring offense in B league with a total of 94 points forced. Those points forced are what's driving Lightning to their 3 and 0 start and 3 of their final 4 games are against winless teams. Look for their game against the Oilers to possibly be the determining factor for the #1 or #2 seed. For Sudden Impact they have probably the toughest schedule left as they play against three teams with winning records. They have a solid team but if they make the playoffs then they'll probably be a #5 or #6 seed. Sudden Impact will look to give FOE their second loss of the season.

WEEK 3 GAME 8

OILERS 33 DENVER SHARKS 00

It was the Sharks second ever game in flag football and it showed as they took a 33 to 0 loss to the Oilers. The Sharks did start out better as they had more than six to start this game, so that is a plus for them. Other than that, the Sharks didn't give me much to write about. As for the Oilers they got their scoring going by a jump ball in the end zone. The Oilers went on to make the score 21 to 0 before half after a short punt gave them great field position. The final score was grabbed by Ryan Conrad-Davis on a pix six. The Oilers haven't been the flashiest team but they are methodical in their approach. They'll need to bring their A game as the easy part of their schedule is over. Games against Swat, Lightning, FOE, and Kryptonite will be the final opponents. The Sharks will continue to learn the flag game and if they can, then they'll be a team to watch out for. I can't state enough, this team is bursting at the seams with talent. As long as they keep having the mind set of "let's put the pads on and we'll see what happens," they'll continue to struggle in flag. Side note they don't realize a lot of players have played tackle and semi-pro ball as well. Enough giving them crap and I'm going with the prediction that they'll get a win before the season ends. The Sharks will see if that first win against unbeaten Kryptonite on Sunday.

FOE 39 OLD SCHOOL 00

For our final game of the day, we had FOE taking Old School to the wood shed by mercy rule winning 39 to 0. That is a clear indication that FOE is cleaning things up on their spread offense. The thing is before half the interceptions were back and forth. So Old School does have some fight to them as I think they did grab two or three interceptions on the day. The issue was FOE had as many if not more interceptions. Old School just couldn't get anything going on offense. Not all FOE's points came from the offense as they had two pix six's. Making it hard on Old School's QB was Joe Gallegos and Xavier Walker applying a ton of pressure all game. With what FOE has left on the schedule, it will be extremely tough to win out. I can see 2 wins but 3 or 4 will be extremely difficult. Obviously I've been wrong before. Even if they only win 2, they will still have a good shot of making the playoffs. As for Old School it's looking more and more like the playoffs are a pipe dream. Instead they look like more in contention for not being the bottom team along with the Eagles and Sharks. The last week of the season is looking like the determining factor for the bottom team. I honestly don't see Old School being able to stay with the Lightning's explosive offense.

CODE OF CONDUCT/FINE/PENALTIES REMINDER

REMINDER: It is on the team captain's to make sure their players know the rules and follow them. There is absolutely NO FIGHTING. Doing so will result in HEAVY fines and suspensions. The rules are there for a reason. If fights happen then we may lose the rights to play on the amazing fields we have. Also, after each game the sidelines will be checked to make sure the trash has been cleaned up. Fines will be implemented to teams that leave their sidelines trashed. So please clean up after yourselves and your fans. Lets have good sportsmanship and have a great season.

The PF3 Code of Conduct/Suspensions/Fines/Penalties document can be found on our website www.premierflagfootball.com. Click on the Home tab, then select Documents.
